Rockland Community College to Open as NYS Testing Site 1/18
Statement from County Executive Ed Day

Great news today for our residents, Rockland Community College (RCC) will open as a New York State COVID-19 testing site on Tuesday, January 18th. New York State has partnered with Quadrant Biosciences to operate the site which will provide oral, saliva-based PCR COVID-19 tests.

Quadrant Biosciences currently operates several other sites around New York which maintain capacity for approximately 225 appointments per day and up to 50 walk-ins. The operating hours for the RCC site have not been announced but the other sites operated by Quadrant generally are open Monday through Friday, from 8:30 AM to 4:00 PM. Once these operating hours and the process for making an appointment are confirmed we will share that information.

Thank you to Governor Kathy Hochul for establishing this new site and to all the other local elected officials who advocated for its opening.
